Vaad Report

by
Norman Zagerman

It is with a deep sense of pride that I formally record the congratulations and best wishes of the entire Jewish community to Lorry Greenberg on his election as Mayor of Ottawa. His selection by the citizens of our city is an indication of the esteem in which he is held and a tribute to his devotion to their interests and to the welfare of the nation's capital. We wish him every success in his new and important post.

Several other members of our community have also been accorded signal recognition recently. It gives me great pleasure to extend congratulations and best wishes to Simon Reisman on having been named winner of the 1974 Outstanding Achievement Award of the Public Service of Canada; to Hon. Herb Gray, Allan Solomon and Alan Abelson on having been named Queen's Counsel; and to Dr. Maxwell Richter, Professor of Pathology at the University of Ottawa, on having been awarded a Fellowship by the Ottawa Foundation for Medical Research to help Finance work in immunology and allergy.

The National Budgeting Conference of Canadian Jewry was created a little over a year ago by a group of national Jewish leaders who represented the Canadian Jewish Congress, United Jewish Relief Agencies of Canada, Jewish Immigrant Aid Services of Canada, United Israel Appeal of Canada, and the central Jewish community organizations in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Ottawa, Hamilton, Edmonton, Calgary, Windsor and London. Its purpose is to serve as an instrument of accountability for the maximum use of the Canadian Jewish philanthropic dollar.

In pursuance of this goal, the NBC has gathered a tremendous amount of facts, figures and background material on each of its present constituents. Several sub-committees then met to examine the data in greater detail and to frame recommendations for the gathering of the Plenary Session on December 4 and 5 in Montreal. I had the privilege of serving as Chairman of the Committee which dealt with the operations of Canadian Jewish Congress and the United Jewish Relief Agencies of Canada.

Gilbert Greenberg, Hy Hochberg and I represented our community at the two-day meeting of the plenary under the chairmanship of Charles Bronfman of Montreal. All of us were struck by the calibre of the leadership present and the sense of dedication which brought them from all parts of Canada to Montreal for the meetings. Information on fund-raising, budgeting and allocations, which had been prepared by Dan Ignatoff, the consultant assigned by the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds in New York, was freely shared and discussed, and for the first time, the size and complexity of the tremendous effort in this country became apparent. Although the recommendations of the conference will not be binding, there is no doubt that it will grow in prestige and that its findings will have a great impact on the budgeting and allocations process on the national and local scene.

It will take some time before the NBC becomes fully operative. Based on what we experienced; however, I would say that should be some time during the spring of 1975 when the actual budgeting process will start with an examination of the needs of the national agencies. In the meantime, the conference came up with a formula for funding immigrant absorption in Canada based on population and fund-raising performance criteria. The executive committee of the Vaad approved the formula at its meeting of December 11.

The NBC meetings were among the best I have ever attended and all of us have high hopes for its future. I shall try to keep you informed of its progress.

A group representing the Vaad, the Talmud Torah Board and the Rabbis of the community had the privilege recently of meeting with the Honourable Thomas Wells, Minister of Education and the Honourable Allan Grossman, Minister for Resource Development of the Province of Ontario. The object was to hear the government's attitude on the subject of support for Jewish education and to advance our own views to the minister responsible at Queens Park. Although nothing conclusive resulted, everyone agreed that there had been a useful exchange and that contact is to be maintained. In the meantime, we are watching developments in the North York School Board of Toronto with interest.

A number of significant developments are taking place in our community including the re-structuring of our Community Relations Committee, the establishment of an Ottawa Canada-Israel Committee; planning for the 1975 United Jewish Appeal; development of non-institutional services for the aged; intensification of program activities at the Jewish Community Centre; a drop in price of kosher meat; purchase of additional cemetery land; historical displays and exhibits; holocaust memorials; to name only a few. I shall report to you on these matters in greater detail in subsequent issues. In the meantime, the officers and members of the Vaad join me in wishing you and your families everything good in 1975.

Lest We Forget

Professor Emil Fackenheim in his recent visit to Ottawa referred to the Holocaust as one of the "epoch-making events" which occurred in our time.

How sad it is that the unfortunate circumstances which allowed six million of our Jewish brethren to perish should be called an "epoch-making event."

For this very reason we should feel an obligation to remember, to teach and to learn about the facts that allowed such a monstrous occurrence less than 32 years ago.

The main objective of the Holocaust Committee of Ottawa, under the co-chairmanship of Messrs. Hugo Levendel and Peter Perel is to develop an, ongoing program — which would be meaningful and relevant to all age groups. We must not forget, we must remember — not only on the one day when we plan our memorial observance, but every day of the year. We must remember that it really did happen and, G-d forbid, it could happen again!

The plans for the coming year include three youth contests, on the Holocaust theme. The first is an Essay Contest, the second a Dramatic Script Contest, and the third a Poetry Contest. Each winning entry and the author will be part of our Holocaust Memorial Day observance scheduled for Sunday, April 6, 1975, at Congregation Machzikei Hadas. The day will also include display material, a candlelighting ceremony in memory of the six million and appropriate musical selections.

If you have not become involved the time is now. Encourage the youth to do some research and enter our contests and encourage your friends and family to join us on April 6 when we gather as a community to pay tribute and to remember.

Gift Parcels for Israeli Soldiers

Gilbert Greenberg, the moving spirit behind Ottawa's efforts for the Israeli Soldiers' Welfare Association reports that over 400 people have responded to the gift parcel fund. A total of 886 parcels will be sent this year.

Mr. Greenberg was encouraged by the community response even though the cost of parcels went up and he will continue this very personal fund again next year.

CANADIAN JEWRY IN 1974

This is an excellent paper delivered by Mr. Saul Hayes, O.C., the retiring Executive Vice-President of Canadian Jewish Congress, at the 17th Plenary Assembly of that organization in Toronto in mid-June. Copies are available to any member of the community. Call Joe Palmer at 232-7306.

SOVIET JEWRY ACTIVITIES

Dr. Sidney Kardash entering the Soviet Embassy.

Members of the Ottawa Women for Soviet Jewry-35's obtaining signatures for their petition on behalf of Soviet Jewry.

In October our prime emphasis was on the fair trial of Viktor Polisky. In November our concern centered around Sylvia Zalmanson. On December 2nd we began our formal petitions on behalf of Dr. Mikhail Shtern.

Petition on Behalf of Dr. Mikhail Shtern

We have learned that Dr. Shtern and his family have been subjected to very harsh treatment by Soviet authorities in Vinnitsa, Ukraine. We understand that Dr. Shtern and his family took preliminary steps in late 1973 to immigrate to Israel. Soviet harsh treatment of such Jews is well documented. We further understand that in the process of the Vinnitsa Procurator's Investigations into Dr. Shtern's "professional ethics" that international legal ethics have been consistently disregarded.

For example, Dr. Shtern was arrested on May 25th, 1974, although no charges were or have been brought forth. His home had been illegally searched previous to arrest. His personal records and articles were confiscated. His patients were interrogated during which his reputation was maligned.

We ask that such harsh and uncivilized treatment of Dr. Shtern be immediately curtailed. We ask the Soviet Union to treat Dr. Mikhail Shtern as a human being. Do not continue to rob him of his basic human rights. And if as we are led to believe Soviet authorities are singling out another Jew to harass, we demand that this practice be stopped at once.

There were over 25 signatures of both Jewish and Non-Jewish physicians.

The urgency of our visit to the Embassy was due to the fact that we were notified at the last minute of the Shtern case. Therefore more physicians were not contacted. Kardash spent over 30 minutes attempting to describe his personal concern for Dr. Shtern. He also relayed the concern of his colleagues and the Ottawa Jewish Community.

The Ottawa Women for Soviet Jewry-35's — marked Human Rights Day, Tuesday, December 10, 1974 by staffing the Laurent and Bayshore Shopping Centres from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. with the following Declaration and a petition to those who wished to sign.

DECLARATION

To Commemorate
Human Rights Day
December 10, 1974

We, the undersigned Citizens of Ottawa, recognize a moral imperative to pledge our support to the cause of Citizens of the Soviet Union. Insofar as they are discriminated against and deprived of

The right to live in the tradition of one's fathers.

The right to develop one's intellectual capacity to the fullest

The right to pursue one's career where one chooses.

The right to leave one's country for reasons of career, family or religion.

We therefore urge Soviet Authorities to restore these basic human rights to Citizens of the USSR.

The women obtained over 35 signatures. Anyone wishing to join the group should phone Simone Goldberg, Chairman.

The Soviet Jewish Community is active. We are anticipating opportunities to voice our concern over both specific cases of "apparent injustice" and the general question of soviet treatment of its Jewish population.

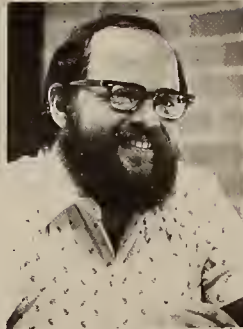

Inquiries and suggestions should be directed to Gittel Teitel or Rabbi Don Gerber.

David Zbar Memorial Fund

The Ottawa Jewish Community Endowment and Bequest Foundation established the David Zbar Memorial Fund to assist in the raising and education of his children.

David, son of Misha and Riney Zbar, brother of Benjie, moved to Israel in 1968. There he met and married Naomi who had immigrated from Morocco some years previously. They had two children, daughters now aged 3 and 1½. David Zbar was killed on October 21 while fulfilling his duties as a soldier in the Israel Defence Forces.

To date over $17,000 has been received by the Endowment & Bequest Foundation for the David Zbar Memorial Fund.

In a recent letter home Riney Zbar had the following to say to the community:

"With regards to the Ottawa Jewish community, neither Daddy nor I can possibly express our gratefulness for the tremendous outpouring of understanding and love, for Naomie and Michael and Yael. It is such a beautiful kind gesture which only generous hearts endowed by the divine spirit could do. Perhaps, we all can best express our deep emotions through fervent silent prayers for an abundance of blessings from the Almighty upon all Israel the world over. Ben and Sharon, you may tell this to all our friends. Love."

Tay-Sachs Disease

By Nathan Schechter, M.D.

Tay-Sachs Disease is an inherited disease of infants characterized by progressive mental deterioration, blindness and is invariably fatal.

There is a high frequency of this disease among the Jewish Ashkenazic population of Middle and Eastern European origin.

Studies in Israel estimate that it occurs in a ratio of 1:3,600 Jews as compared to 1:360,000 non-Jews. Stated in another way it means that 1 in 30 Ashkenazi Jews are carriers of this abnormal gene.

Thus the problem of identifying Tay-Sachs disease carriers is a serious one.

For example, in one family studied, the grandfather carried the abnormal gene while the grandmother was normal. They had two sons. The abnormal gene was transferred to one of the sons who married a woman who also carried the abnormal gene. The result was that they had one normal child and one child with Tay-Sachs Disease.

The cause of the disease is an accumulation of material in brain tissue called Tay-Sachs ganglioside. This material is different from the normal tissue of the brain and its collection is believed to be due to the absence of a chemical (enzyme) which prevents this accumulation when normally present. The important thing is that the presence or absence of this enzyme can be determined by tests done on the white blood cells or on the amniotic fluid of the pregnant female.

Thus mass screening to discover carriers of the Tay-Sachs gene is now possible and has been carried out in several areas of the United States and Canada.

In cases of carriers, genetic counselling is now possible.

Discussions are now going on to programme such screening in Ottawa.

Dr. Nathan Schechter is President of the Jewish Community Centre.

RON BORO TO INTRODUCE DYNAMIC NEW J.C.C. PHYS.-ED. PROGRAM

Ron Boro, newly-appointed Director of Physical Education Activities at the Jewish Community Centre, is developing a comprehensive phys.-ed. program to serve and anticipate the needs of the entire community.

Guidelines are being developed to effectively utilize the facilities at our disposal to their maximum extent and scope.

Special day-time programs are being planned for the Golden Age, Mother and Toddler, Pre-natal women and physical fitness for men and women.

Afternoon and evening programs are being planned for school-age children, teen-agers and students. A family program for Sundays is also in preparation.

Ron, a dedicated phys.-ed. professional, feels that concern for physical education and development programs, has been traditionally neglected by the Jewish community. Aside from the obvious needs of children and teen-agers to develop their bodies to their maximal potential, men and women are also in need of physical activity and conditioning to relieve stress and tension, maintain muscle tone and weight balance, and good health in general.

If you keep a kosher home there is a good chance your children will carry on the tradition. The same with physical education. If you are involved and interested, your children will probably follow your example and live longer and healthier lives. As with kashrut, physical education activity is something which can be adopted today and maintained for the rest of your life.

Drop in and give it a try!
